MANIFESTO

Vice President of Campaign

As Vice President of Campaign, my goal is to build a college that is globally connected, confidence-driven, and student-powered. My plans are built to create long-term impact that continues long after my term ends.

---

1. Global Connections & International Opportunities

I will connect Dudley College to UNICEF, the United Nations, and the EU/UK Parliament Ambassador Programme, proving our college as an EU/UNICEF Ambassador College.

This will create opportunities such as:

- UNICEF Youth Voice projects
- UN youth programmes
- Model-UN style debates
- Global awareness campaigns
- International days (Peace, Education, Human Rights)
- An annual Dudley–UNICEF Youth Summit

These projects give students the chance to take part in international discussions and represent Dudley College globally.

---

2. Project Voice – Turning Student Feedback into Action

I will create a fully transparent and fast-response system that ensures student feedback leads to real outcomes. This includes:

- A Student Solutions Council
- Monthly drop-ins for student ideas
- A fast-response system to fix issues
  Clear “You Said – We Did” updates across campus

Students will finally see real changes. Issues will no longer be ignored, and the trust between students and leadership will grow. This system will become a permanent part of college life.

---

3. Thrive @ Dudley – Confidence, Communication & Leadership Lab

I will build a practical leadership and confidence programme offering:

- Public speaking workshops
- Confidence-building sessions
- Leadership masterclasses
- Guest speakers and awareness events (including anti-Islamophobia initiatives)

With my training from the Harvard & Oxford Leading with Character programme, I will bring high-quality leadership skills into these sessions.

This supports quieter students, builds stronger communities, and improves wellbeing beyond academics.

Long-term impact includes a recognised confidence club and an annual leadership showcase.

My mission:

To build systems, structures, and opportunities that stay long after my term ends, making Dudley College more global, more confident, and more united.
